A NUISANCE.

What one man calls enterprise, another considers an intolerable nuisance. From different standpoints the same thing presents different aspects. What, from one point of observation, is commendable, from another is sometimes displeasing. For instance, a salesman in a store or shop who by his importunity succeeds in inducing customers to buy articles which they do not need and had no intention of buying, from the shopman's standpoint is considered a man of enterprise, while from that of customers he is regarded as a nuisance. A clerk who is polite and attentive, and does not think it too much trouble to show what the store contains, is unusually appreciated by customers; but, as a rule, they do not like to have goods forced upon them by persons who pretend to understand their wants better than they themselves. A man may make a nuisance of himself by pestering people with his wares. Those who come from abroad as book agents, &c., and visit from house to house, are usually the greatest offenders in this line. No objection can be taken to their simply offering their articles and making the most of their good qualities, but a persistent pressing of them upon one's attention, with a strong intimation that the proper thing is to buy, becomes offensive to most people.

KAUAI NOTES.

Fine weather has prevailed for the past week, and if the roads—ruined by the heavy rains—could be repaired, Kauaians would have less cause for complaint.
Mr. Preston, the astronomer, and his assistant, are now at Koloa. They have a little cottage on the beach, where they can make their observations, and the bright starlight skies have favored them not a little. They have been at Koloa a little over a week, having come from Waimea. When all their work is completed at Koloa, they will go to Hanalei. This journey of about 50 miles would endanger the safety of the instruments, as the only overland express-cart is the bullock cart. So the instruments will be sent by steamer, while the gentlemen will ride across the country.
Mr. Johnstone, acting Inspector-General, this week examined the Kapaa, Kilauea and Hanalei schools.
Mr. C. O. Berger, famous in insurance business, has been inspecting the Island in his line, and has met with fair success.
Kauai, March 11, 1887.

THE SHOOTING AFFRAY AT THE EMPIRE.

The following is the evidence for the defence, rendered too late for our issue of Saturday last, where the evidence for the prosecution is to be found. W. H. Vance said:—
Early on the morning of Thursday, heard rattling at back door on makai side of house. Was asleep, it woke me up. Went out of my room into back room to see who was there. Went up to door and called out "who is that?" received no answer but noise stopped. Thought at first it might be Marden or Fraser, but when no answer was got thought it could not be either. Took out bunch of keys to open door but dropped them on floor. Then picked them up, went to my room and got revolver. Then went out and into saloon and opened door. Was in my stocking feet. When I opened door I looked out and saw that lattice screen of back door was swung open, and concluded someone was behind it hiding. Did not go out of door but called out again and received no answer. Then fired a shot not knowing who it might be. Don't know time. Did not look to see. It was not daylight. There is a screen from outer edge of back verandah hanging to within about 7 feet of ground which makes it dark under verandah. Panel door hangs about two feet clear of ground. If any one had stood behind it on ground could see legs underneath. Person must have been standing on door step within line of wall. Didn't intend to hurt anyone, and only fired to scare person away. Simply fired at brick pile beyond. Only fired one shot, and person ran, whom I then recognized as Marden. I then closed saloon door and went back to room and afterwards (some minutes), opened front of saloon. Had I intended to hurt him would have fired other shots. Then had good chance to hit him. Had no reason to think it was Marden, as he had keys and could have got in without making any noise. Didn't expect him back that morning after what had passed the night before. When I opened up two policemen came and one shook hands with me. Officer Tell came shortly after and asked about shooting and for the pistol. Was taking it out of pocket to give him. When other policeman seized me and took it out. After this Marden came and went behind counter while I was talking with Capt. Tell. I was somewhat excited. A large crowd had rushed in with Marden. Told Tell I was manager in answer to his questions. Then Marden said, "you are not manager, now." We had some words and grappled across the bar. Then I was arrested and taken to Station House.

Mr. Fraser had been engaged by Mr. Olds to take Marden's place on arrival of steamer Australia. Marden knew of this arrangement some time before. It was only after he told Mr. Olds and I that he intended to leave, that Fraser was engaged. The day before shooting, Mr. Olds being absent to Koolau, I put Fraser to work. Told Marden he need not come in morning. Never asked him for his keys, but he said if I thought I was a better man than him I had better take from him. I took no particular notice of what he said, but kept on washing and wiping up. That evening after Marden had left, Mr. Olds telephoned to me to let Marden stay until Monday, when he would be in. I said all right, and told Fraser to quit until Monday, when things would be settled by Mr. Olds. Had no chance to tell Marden what Olds had said, and did not expect him to come back that morning. Did not know Olds had telephoned to Marden or Marden to him. Olds simply told me to let Marden stay on till Monday. I intended to do this, and that is why I told Fraser to wait. Had never had any trouble with Marden before.

Cross-examined—Sleep on premises. Always keep pistol loaded in my room. Have charge of large sums of money there at times, and sleep with window partly up for air. Loaded pistol sometime ago, perhaps three weeks. Only knew it was Marden after he ran out from shade of verandah screen. Fired at brick pile. Didn't know who it was. Didn't think it was Marden or Fraser, because I received no answer to my inquiry.

Don't know whether that hole in screen was made by shot I fired or not. It may have been. I fired by screen door but not intending to hit it or anyone behind it. Knew I could not hurt anyone if standing on step. I stood inside door with only my head and arm out. Person on door step would be protected by line of wall.

THE HAWAIIAN TREATY.

Washington, March 4.—[Special.]—One of the last reports submitted to the House, and upon which no action was taken, was in support of the following resolution, reported by the judiciary committee:
Resolved, First—That the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, cannot negotiate a treaty which shall be binding on the United States, whereby duties on imports are to be regulated, either by imposing or remitting, increasing or decreasing them, without the sanction of an act of Congress, and that the extension of the term for the operation of the original treaty or convention with the government of the Hawaiian Islands will not be binding on the United States without like sanction, which was provided for in the original treaty and convention and was given by an act of Congress.

Second—That the President is respectfully requested to withhold final action upon the proposed convention and to condition its final ratification upon the sanction of an act of Congress in respect of duties upon articles to be imported from the Hawaiian Islands.
This subject will again be brought up in the Fiftieth Congress. A new treaty for the extension of the present Hawaiian treaty will be negotiated during the summer by the President. If it is simply a renewal of the present treaty the Senate will rectify it without regard to any confirmatory legislation by the House of Representatives.

A BOMBARDMENT.

London, March 4.—News has been received of the capture by the Portuguese of the fortress commanding the bay of Tungi and the occupation of the bay. Mamarel, a petty native chief, is at the head of the present uprising on the Mozambique mainland against the Portuguese authority. The insurgents are looting along the shores, but it is not thought that there is any danger to life or property on the island of Mozambique, on which the capital of the country is situated. British cruisers have arrived at the capital to protect English subjects and interests.

The Portuguese bombarded the fortress at Tungi before capturing it, and burned the Village of Massingane.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS ITEMS.

Washington, March 4.—The following nominations were confirmed by the Senate this morning: Henry P. Harris of Georgia, third assistant postmaster-general, Dabney H. Murri of Virginia to be minister to the republic of Columbia, George W. Julian of Indiana to be Surveyor-General of New Mexico, David K. Tuttle of Nevada to be assayer and refiner of the mint at Carson City, Nev., Charles T. Grellet of California to be consul of the United States at Algiers, John H. Campbell of California to be consul of the United States at Tamatave.

It is said at the White House that there is no possibility of a special session of the Senate being called by the President for the purpose of acting on nominations or any other purpose.

The Interstate Commerce Commission and a successor to Secretary Manning will probably be appointed next week or the week following.

Aggressions are being made by the San Carlos Apaches which put the settlers out of humor. News from Dripping Springs of undoubted authority elicits the fact that these savages get off the reservation and steal stock of all kinds in large quantities. A lot of Indians left Captain Smith's band on the Gila, and then proceeded to within fifteen miles of the boundary, where they stole some thirty horses and then decamped for the mountains, where they could not be found. It is surmised that they are destined for the Navajo tribe, to whom the stock will be probably sold.

London, March 4.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach was absent from the House of Commons last night, being confined with severe cold. The Daily Telegraph thinks he will resign the chief secretaryship for Ireland, as his health will not allow him to continue to perform the arduous duties of that office.

London, March 4.—The Standard this morning, in which no mention is made of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's resignation, says that Sir Michael is suffering from an affection of the eyes, but that he will probably reappear in Parliament on Monday. Last night's session was curtailed on that account.

Nice, March 4.—Another slight shock of earthquake was felt here to-day.

A grand military tournament is being arranged here for the benefit of the sufferers by the recent earthquakes.

Rome, March 4.—One person was to-day taken alive from the ruins at Diuno-Marino, and a whole family were rescued from a cellar in Taggia. They all have been immured since the first shocks occurred. Engineers report only a few houses safe in Oneglia. It is necessary to build huts for the accommodation of 10,000 persons rendered homeless by earthquakes.

Limerick, March 4.—A sensation has been caused by the perpetration of very extensive incendiarism last night in the country surrounding the city, a large number of houses being burned, the victims in all cases being persons who paid rents. Great excitement prevails. The aggregate of the property destroyed is very large. The fires were by armed incendiaries, who escaped. The district was ablaze all night with burning houses and hay.

Montreal, March 4.—The arrangements of the Canadian Pacific Railway company for a through connection with China have been completed. Three steamships have been chartered, and the first will leave Hongkong early in April. The railway authorities here apparently do not anticipate any interference with the international train service as a result of the passage of the retaliatory measures by the United States Congress.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—The Journal of St. Petersburg reports that the Ameer of Afghanistan, who is preparing for a holy war, is likely to cause more alarm in Bombay and Madras than at the Russian headquarters in Central Asia, where no attack is meditated against the Ameer's possessions.

Berlin, March 4.—The complete returns are as follows: Conservatives 81, Imperialists 59, National Liberals 100, Centre 97, New German Liberals 34, Polish 15, Progressivists 15, Socialists 11, Guelphs 4, Danish 1.
Berlin, March 4.—Herr Weddell

Presdorf was to-day elected president of the Reichstag. He received 184 votes. Two ballots were cast for Dr. Windthorst, and 99 were cast blank.

London, March 4.—The government Irish bill provides that a special jury list, drawn from classes that are not liable to intimidation, shall be formed for the trial of special offenses.

London, March 4.—The Standard this morning says that Russia has addressed a note to Spain regarding her resumption of the freedom of action in European affairs.
